Report on “How to become an anchor/ discussant/ Rapporteur”

Topic: ‘How to become an anchor/ discussant / Rapporteur
Date: 12/11/2021
Venu: Seminar Hall, GBYSSM
Participants: GBYSSM & Other institute B.Ed. & M.Ed. Students
Mode: Hybrid

A Special lecture on How to become an anchor/ discussant / Rapporteur was organize on 12/11/2021 Dr. Parinita Ratnaparkhi Assistant professor, Gulab Bai Yadav Smriti Shiksha Mahavidyalaya, Borawan Served as a Resource Person Dr. Parinita Ratnaparkhi started the session with a good explanation on the concept anchor, discussant and rapporteur. Then gave important tips and rules that are to be followed when one gives a presentation as an anchor, discussant and rapporteur. She stressed Working under the studio lights is much more than just reading off a teleprompter in an air-conditioned studio. It can be pretty demanding and requires multitasking. Being presentable is important, but that may not take one far if there is no substance. One must be well-read, able to articulate well, updated in current affairs and proficient in language-both in spoken and writing. Sure, appearances do matter-therefore, one must look fit, have a clear, confident style of delivery and a good diction, and a sharp presence of mind -in order to be a good news anchor. For non-news segments too, all these traits are desirable, in addition to having strong domain knowledge. This apart, one must have the aptitude to work in a team as television is all about a great team effort. And he or she must be willing to put in long hours at work as a news anchor and have no issues working at odd hours too. Her presentation gave the students a clear picture of the skills that has to be mastered to become an effective anchor / discussant / rapporteur. 75 Students participated in the session. Attendance and feedback from the 71 students were collected using google form. The session ended with the vote of thanks presented by the second year B.Ed. student.
