ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

About the Conference:

The need of society for sustainable growth and development is dependent on the innovations. In the field of Education the need of innovative methods, ideas and products are necessary for transforming education to meet the challenges of tomorrow. Mere adding of technology to present education system will never be an innovation; instead it is about solving a problem which promotes equity and improved learning. Innovations in Education are manifold. It can come in the form of products, processes, programs, methods, techniques, technologies, services, partnerships etc.

Educator and teachers owns the responsibility to be innovative in their approaches towards teaching and learning. NEP 2020 mentions the importance of creative and critical thinking skills for innovations. It mentions the importance of innovation and out-of-the-box ideas through autonomy, good governance and empowerment. Keeping in view the need of innovations in various areas of education, the present National Conference on "Innovations in Education" is organized by EDUCARE 2022, GBYSSM. The six sub-themes on which the research papers are invited are as follows:

- Innovation in Teaching
- Innovations in Curriculum
- Innovations in Instructional Materials
- Innovations in Evaluation
- Innovations in Management
- Innovations in Educational Research

The above given sub-themes are not limited to education, instead delegates and research scholars belonging to different disciplines are invited to the conference to share their ideas, research work and findings. The conference will provide an interdisciplinary platform for the scholars to meet.
